

Krystal Smith Bio:

Krystal Smith is a long-time progressive organizer and public servant running as the BC NDP candidate in Kelowna-Mission.

Krystal was born at KGH and grew up a just a few blocks away at Richter and Elliot. Her mother and role model Eva raised her as a single parent. She attended Kelowna Secondary School; and she played rugby and other sports at Parkinson Rec Centre. Krystal began advocating for the well-being of her community as a student leader at UBC-O where, she served on UBC's Board of Governors. She lead her student union and was instrumental in the negotiations of Universal Bus Pass that Kelowna students still enjoy today. She moved to Kamloops to serve the students of Thompson Rivers University.

Most recently, she has served as a public servant with the Ministry of Citizen Services.

Krystal has developed strong advocacy and policy skills through her work leading campaigns and delivering results for people and organizations across BC that are working to make life more affordable, create good jobs and a sustainable economy, and improve services for people.

Krystal is running to put her tireless energy and experience in getting the job done to work for the people of Kelowna-Mission.
