I'm running for the BC Libertarian Party because I do not believe in one-size-fits-all solutions; whether that comes to auto-insurance, education, healthcare, or even liquor distribution. You are the most qualified person to make decisions in your life, and I believe that you should have more power to do so.

You deserve a lower rate of taxation, more choice in your services, and real freedom. You deserve a government that sees itself for what it is; a servant of the people, not the ruler of the people.

When I ran in the by-election of 2018, I discovered first hand just how sick and tired people were of the current two-party system, which often led folks into choosing the "lesser of two evils". I'm here to add another voice on the matter, an option that is not the 'lesser' of anything, but a real alternative.
